Dear Colleague,

Transparency and accurate reporting of research protocols and study results is paramount for high quality research that should inform the target users (public, patients, health care professionals, decision makers) about which decision should be made in healthcare and health system governance.

As a health services researcher, teacher and director of Cochrane Switzerland (the Swiss Branch of the collaboration) I hereby express my (our) support to the work accomplished in the framework of the EQUATOR network.

Sincerely yours,

Bernard Burnand
