

The INSERM-Sorbonne Paris Cite Epidemiology and Statistics Research Centre in collaboration with the EQUATOR Network one day scientific meeting;

IMPROVING REPORTING TO DECREASE THE WASTE OF RESEARCH

May 16th 2014

Hôpital Européen Georges Pompidou (Grand Auditorium), Paris.

09.30 to 09.45	Introduction to EQUATOR and theme of meeting	Doug Altman, University of Oxford
09.45 to 10.40	6 th EQUATOR annual lecture	Drummond Rennie, JAMA
10.40 to 10.50	Launch of the French EQUATOR centre
10.50 to 11.10	Coffee
		session chair: Trish Groves
11.10 to 11.40	Animal studies	Malcolm MacLeod, University of Edinburgh
11:40 to 12:10	Observational studies	Doug Altman, University of Oxford
12:10 to 12:40	Genetic studies	John Ioannidis, Stanford University
12:40 to 13:10	Prognostic and diagnostic studies	Patrick Bossuyt, University of Amsterdam
13.10 to 14.10	Lunch
		session chair: Jeremy Grimshaw
14:10 to 14:40	Improving reporting to decrease the waste of research: the point of view of an editor	Ginny Barbour, PLoS Medicine
14:40 to 15:10	Improving reporting to decrease the waste of research: the point of view of a charity funder	Jeremy Farrar, Wellcome Trust
15:10 to 15:40	Improving reporting to decrease the waste of research: the point of view of an academic funder	Tom Walley, NIHR Health Technology Assessment Programme
15.40 to 16.00	Coffee
		session chair: Iain Chalmers
16.00 to 17.00	Round table discussion: improving quality and reducing waste	Pierre Corvol, French National Research Agency Jacques Demotes, ECRIN-ERIC Jean-Luc Dubois-Randé, French Secretary of State of Higher Education and Research Laragh Gollongly, WHO Tom Walley, NIHR UK
17.00	Closing remarks	